Nell Munson Elected To Nat'l Honor Roll

The Rev. and Mrs. David Munson of Frankfort, were notified recently that their daughter, Nell, a student at Joliet Township High School has been elected to the National Honor Society, Keystone and Torch chapter.

In notifying the parents, H. S. Bonar, superintendent, said that the selection is made by the school faculty and based on the student's scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the school.

Miss Munson was also one of the six from the JTHS orchestra who were chosen as the best to go to the All State Music Activity workshop at the state university at Urbana. Once a year the best from each musical department from each high school in the state are chosen for this event. By gathering thus at the university, an opportunity is given to play in a large group, orchestra, band, etc.

The event was held November 24 and 25 with all expenses paid by the school sending the pupils. In their work shops each day, recordings were made of their selections and last Wednesday and Saturday it was broadcast from the University radio station WILL.

Mokena Couple Buy Ranch in Arizona

Mr. and Mrs. George Dath are selling their home and taking their family to their new home, a cattle ranch in Arizona on or about December 26th.

Mr. Dath will resign from the Mokena village board next Tuesday. He is leaving his position with W. H. Miner, Inc. of Chicago to go in business for himself. He has been connected with the firm for the past fifteen years as chief draftsman and has also done inventing and patenting for their use.

The Daths' leaving climaxes a dream to go west which was born on one of Mr. Dath's trips through the west on business several years ago, on which his wife accompanied him. Their ranch is small, as ranches go out west, consisting of 7,200 acres ranging from flat land to mountains.

It is their sincere hope that all their friends travelling to the West Coast will stop at their ranch which is located 16 miles north of Douglas, Arizona on transcontinental R.R. 80.

Herman Legatzke, 54, who has been living with his family at 325 Union street, in Mokena, since October 1949, was killed about 5:30 Saturday afternoon when the car he was driving was hit by a car driven by Edward Nagel, 15 years old, of 8637 May street, Chicago, at the intersection of 103rd and Southwest highway, near Palos Park.

The deceased, who is employed by an ornamental iron company, was returning from work when the accident happened. In Nagel's car were his mother, Bertha, 42, and a passenger, Dean Kooldenhaven, 15. It is thought some of them were injured. Nagel was held at a juvenile home near Bedford Park until the inquest was held Monday, when the case was continued because some of the occupants of the Nagel car were unable to attend.

The Bedford deputies reported that in the case of a fatal accident the driver is held by them pending the inquest.

Mr. Legatzke is survived by his wife, Katherine, and four sons, William of Mokena, and Carl, Robert and Herman Jr., of Chicago.

Homecoming Report Shows 1950 Profit

Proceeds from the annual homecoming at Mokena have been distributed to the three organizations participating. Marshall Muller, treasurer of the 1950 homecoming, has disbursed the net profits, $1191.51, with checks of $397.17 to the Volunteer Firemen, to the Wm. Martin Post 725 and to the Mokena Civic association. Mr. Muller also submitted a complete report of receipts and disbursements showing the actual receipts of each stand.

The gross receipts were $5040.76, several thousand dollars less than the two previous years, but this year's net profit shows well considering that it was divided three ways. The officers in charge were unable to make a report earlier as no figures were available from the amusement company handling the concessions.

The committee in charge wish to thank the residents of Mokena and surrounding territory for their patronage and assistance in making the homecoming a success.

1951 CHEVROLET ON DISPLAY AT FRANKFORT SAT.

The Frankfort Motor and Equipment sales rooms will be open Saturday, December 9, until 10 p.m. to give everyone an opportunity to see the new 1951 Chevrolets which will be shown for the first time on that date. A two door and a four door sedan will be on display. Added safety, greater driving ease and fresh re-styling are the highspots of these cars.

Important improvements and changes are featured in both chassis and body. These changes range from the "biggest brakes in the low-priced field" to extensive design innovations that make the car appear much longer and lower than any previous model.

The Powerglide automatic transmission, Chevrolet's sensational driving advance, has been refined for the latest models, although remaining fundamentally the same flexible driving control.

The new "Jumbo Drum" brakes headline the qualities of the car directed toward safer operation. Quick or emergency stops are assured by a brake which involves considerable departure from past design. Every brake shoe, fitted with the long life bonded lining made famous by Chevrolet, is self-energizing in both forward and reverse travel, giving a consistent, surge-free operation that will please drivers.

Important as it will affect parking is an increase in steering gear ratio. Other points worthy of mentioning under driving ease are new convenience of controls, re-located brake pedals, reduced vibration through greater torque tube rigidity and a new method of propeller shaft balancing in production.

For 1951 Chevrolet offers two economical valve in head engines. The standard engine develops 92 horsepower while the optional power plant, available on DeLuxe models with Powerglide, develops 105 horsepower.

Essentially the power train is unchanged. A few changes that accent easier service include: elimination of the body function block in the electrical system, made possible by the mounting of switches at the bottom of the instrument panel; a more accessible location for the rear bearing oil cup on the generator to prevent over lubrication; and improvement in the attachment on the primary terminal of the distributor, facilitating assembly of the breaker lever.

WILL CELEBRATE SUNDAY FIFTY YEARS IN PRESENT BUILDING

Dr. John Holland, Former Pastor, Will Deliver the Sermon; Everyone Invited

Many Attend Special Church Services

The services held Sunday for the dedication of the newly remodeled organ and chimes of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church at Mokena drew a large attendance.

The recital music was impressive and the program was diversified to display the qualities of the organ. The soft tones used by the organist were well suited to the religious service and the beautiful vocal selections by Mrs. Rachel Caldwell of Chicago were much appreciated by the congregation.

Siegfried Gruenstein of Wilmette, who gave the dedicatory recital in the evening kept his audience in wrapt attention for an hour with his masterful interpretations.

Among the outstanding numbers were "Sonata No. 3 in A Major," "Con Moto Maestoso and Andante Tranquillo." The theme of this work is the chorale "Out of the Depths I Cry to Thee" which depicts deep agony of soul and ends in recovery of tranquility. The hymn chorale was masterfully executed in the pedal register.

The orchestral tone poem "Finlandia" by Sibelius received brilliant interpretation.

Outstanding in the performance was the "Funeral March and Song of the Seraphim" by Alexander Guilmant. The famous French organist wrote this composition in memory of his mother and played it at the inauguration of the organ in Notre Dame cathedral, Paris. The stately march works up to a powerful climax in which brass instruments and the roll of drums are heard, to the seraphic song in transition which air is played on the pedals, with harplike accompaniment. It was in this that the recitalist demonstrated high art and versatility of the new organ.

In the morning dedicatory service the pastor reported that the entire cost of the organ was covered. He also complimented the organ committee for its wise care in selecting the appointments of the organ.

The committee was made up of Mrs. Roy Kropp, Mrs. Donald Maue, Mrs. Howard Strassenburg, Mrs. Harmon Shaw and Lawrence Kohl.

The Deagan chimes, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kropp adds much to the church service.

RUMMAGE SALE POSTPONED

Due to complications arising over obtaining the store desired for the Home Bureau rummage sale for December 9, it has been decided to postpone said sale until sometime in January. Notices will be sent to members later as to the exact time, place and date.

The Methodist church at New Lenox, whose history covers more than 100 years, will hold a special celebration Sunday.

Because the church has held uninterrupted services in the present building for 50 years, it was thought that fact called for a special observance.

Dr. John Holland, now pastor of the Little Brown church of the Air with broadcasts over WLS each Sunday morning and who was the pastor at New Lenox when the present building was but a few years old, will return and deliver the sermon at the 7:30 o'clock evening service Sunday, December 10.

There will be special music by both senior and junior choirs. Refreshments and fellowship will follow the service.

When the old parsonage burned many years ago, valuable records were destroyed, but from the treasurer's records kept by the late J. C. Brisbane, facts have been gathered.

In the History of Will County written in 1878, the historian states that the Mormons were the first to hold religious services in the New Lenox settlement. They were followed by Circuit Rider Rev. S. R. Biggs, a Methodist preacher, who served this wide area in bringing religious services which included New Lenox. These services were held in houses and barns until 1846 when a frame school house was built on the farm of Abraham Francis.

In 1850, according to Will County history, the first Methodist church was built and called the Bethel Methodist church. In 1859 it was torn down and moved to the village. That new church cost $1,000 and Rev. George P. Hoover was pastor, Allen Francis, Sunday school superintendent and there were 60 members in the church.

From the records of Mr. Brisbane it is found that he recorded placing in the cornerstone of the present building the following:

"Services were held in the homes of Abraham Francis, Thomas Francis and John Cooper until 1846 when the school house was built. There services were held until 1853 when the Bethel Methodist church was built and torn down in 1863, and part of that material used in building a new church in the village of New Lenox. Rev. W. H. Gloss was pastor and also served the Frankfort church, Miss Adeline Hurd was organist, she later became the wife of Sir William C. Van Horn, general manager of the Canadian Pacific railroad. Her father was a noted civil engineer who made the plans for the Erie Canal and later took a leading part in building the Rock Island railroad."

It was during the pastorate of Rev. A. F. Clarke, also present building was built with the cornerstone laid July 12, 1899 and January 14 the completed church was dedicated. The building was erected at a cost of $10,040 which included the furnishings, listing the beautiful art windows at $750 and the pews, $390. The salary of Rev. Clark was $1000 and he also served the church at Tinley Park.

In 1905 Rev. John Holland began his ministry at New Lenox and Tinley Park with a salary of $800 for both churches.

During the pastorate of the present pastor, Rev. Ralph L. Miller of Joliet, who came to the charge in 1945, many improvements have been made, which include remodeling system, new kitchen, laying of new carpet on the new asphalt floor in the sanctuary, rest rooms built and the church newly decorated. The parsonage has also been remodeled.

The present membership of the church is 425 and an average attendance at Sunday school is 190. New organizations active in the church include senior and junior choirs, a Wednesday evening discussion group and an evening circle of young women who meet once a month.

Rev. Miller and family are conscientious workers in the church and are loved by the members. Rev. Miller is at present completing his course in ministry training at Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston.

An invitation is extended to everyone in the area to join them in the celebration Sunday evening.

3 Illinois 4-H Champs Go to Chicago

Velma Riley

Gordon Schroeder

Peggy Hoffman

STATE championship honors for 1950 have been won by three Illinois 4-H Club members for outstanding work in the National Safety, Farm and Home Electric and Food Preparation awards programs. Brief outlines of their records follow.

4-H means "No Accidents" to Velma Riley, 18, of Griggsville, Farm and Home Safety champion. Her efforts to make home and farm a safer place in which to live and work, won for Velma the General Motors $50 U. S. Savings Bond award. With the idea, "It Could Happen to You" in mind, she embarked on a two-fold program of accident and fire prevention. In making the farm survey, Velma and her family were especially interested in farm machine safety since Velma's brother had been seriously injured in a tractor accident. Their fire prevention work has added lightning rods, a taller chimney, and a reshingling job on the farm buildings. During nine years in 4-H, Velma followed safety rules in carrying out all of her projects. Her club officers include four years as a junior leader and a longer period as musical accompanist to various club shows.

Of practical and lasting value to Gordon Schroeder, 18, of Bloomington, is the down-to-earth knowledge gained in the 4-H Farm and Home Electric program, which also won for him highest state honors. His plans for utilizing electricity and electrical equipment on the home farm has resulted in more conveniences and leisure hours. Gordon's work includes such unique devices as an electric corn sheller, an electric eye burglar alarm, and a control panel which operates a model railroad, and lights.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA co-operating.

a miniature village. This last device won a county first prize in 1948. With plans to become an electrical engineer, Gordon's imagination won him the 1949 trophy for outstanding electrical project. But more important, it has made electricity a practical yet enjoyable pastime for his family. Westinghouse Educational Foundation provided Gordon's $50 U. S. Savings Bond award.

A high spot in 4-H Club work was reached by Peggy Hoffman, 19, Fairbury, when she was named state winner in the Food Preparation program. A 4-H'er for six years, Peggy has completed 19 projects, specializing in food preparation, dairy foods, clothing, food preservation, and home improvement. She became expert in meal planning, and has cooked and served more than 550 dishes, plus 128 batches of bread. This year, Peggy received the State Better Methods scholarship award for her demonstration on a biscuit mix. She has made 24 county exhibits, receiving many A ratings, and she has given 17 individual demonstrations. Peggy's club activities have included the presidency of her local club, junior leadership in her club, and co-chairman of the Organization Committee of the 4-H Club Federation. Chosen to attend the Leadership Conference this year, she also was a counselor at District Camp. Her reward, a trip to Club Congress, was furnished by the Kelvinator Corp., of Detroit, Mich.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

You can expect the newly created permanent Senate Small Business Committee to start launching headline making investigations soon.

There may even be another intra-government battle brewing.

Under the Defense Production Act of 1950, the Department of Commerce is authorized to set up allocations and priorities on scarce materials and goods.

Almost as soon as the measure was passed, Washington observers noted the return of the monopoly representatives. It is presumed they are in Washington, as they were in pre-OPA days, to influence drafting of these regulations.

However, the Wherry Amendment, which became a part of this law, provides that all business receive a fair pro-rata share of supplies.

However, enforcement will depend on complaints being received and acted upon. Senate Small Business Committee members have already expressed their intention of investigating all complaints of discrimination. And complaints have already been reported.

One powerful motive for making the present safeguards work is the general reluctance to set up another OPA which would be the only other alternative.

Nobody wants to introduce a tax bill to provide the money to run another OPA.

In addition, there is another compelling reason.

Many responsible people are demanding that government interference in business be decreased, not increased. Not many more steps can be taken, it is argued, before the nation will be socialized.

©National Federation of Independent Business

This fact, just brought to light, is causing a lot of discussion in Washington. Expect to hear more about it.

Immediately following the Korean outbreak, the Defense Department employed 263,978 civilians, adding to an already existing staff of 738,799.

No one, least of all Congressmen, seems to have any idea of what a million civilian employees are doing.

Even the estimated 200 press agents included in this group have not released any information on this interesting question.

The revived fight on increasing the excess profits tax to finance defense expenditures was forced into the open by public protest.

Senator George has been opposing an action on the grounds that nothing can be done until hearings are held.

This argument has not been too popular, except with those who would pay an excess profits tax.

"Since when," it has been asked, "has it ever been felt necessary to hold public hearings in an increase in personal income taxes?"

The first round of government conducted clinics on small business defense work has been concluded.

The Senate Small Business Committee which sponsored these meetings is getting reports and recommendations for future proceedings.

Attendance by independent manufacturers was heavy. An impressive array of officials has conducted the meetings.

But the reports indicate too little specific information was given; too much time was devoted to giving speeches.

HEALTH TALK

From Educational Committee
Illinois State Medical Society

That Tired Feeling

You're always tired—you feel as if the day will never end? Any small task requires too much energy—energy of which you have so little. Why? The state of being tired is experienced by almost everyone at some time or other in his life. A natural feeling at the end of a hard working day, but one that is supplanted with new energy after a refreshing sleep, according to the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society in a Health Talk.

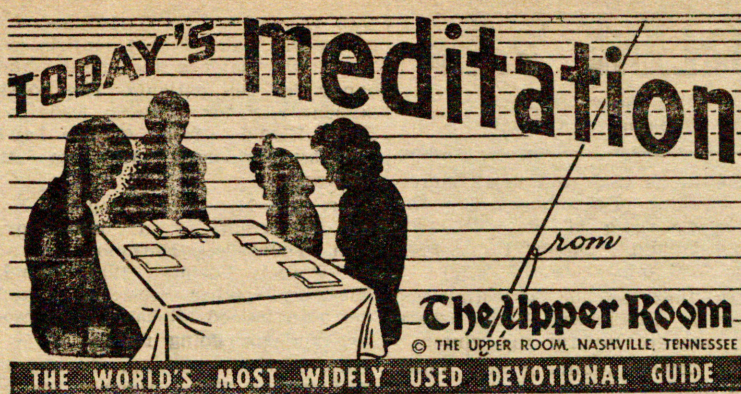

The fatigue that is always present is another problem. This is the fatigue brought about by a long period of overwork, or late hours with little rest, or meals that do not provide the fuel necessary to maintain the machinery of the body. The maximum of production can not be obtained from long hours of overwork. Efficiency is lessened to the degree that a worker comes to his job as tired as he left it the night before. The physical fatigue resulting from overwork, either mental or physical, is responsible for this saying "too tired to eat." The body needs fuel, it needs to replenish its stock of energy with energy producing foods and this can be done by means of a well balanced diet. Sugar is needed to combat fatigue. When the blood sugar is depleted, many cases of fatigue and tiredness occur, even to the point of collapse.

Many conditions stem from fatigue. Again fatigue may stem from various diseases, infection, improper hygiene, too much mental effort and inadequate nutrition. Many accidents can be charged to fatigue.

For that tired feeling in the overworked person, a change of hours is recommended. There should be a shorter working day and a brief spell of relaxation, for recreation is important to the working person. For exhaustion in a nervous person, it has been found that complete rest in bed aggravates rather than relieves the condition, particularly for chronic nervous exhaustion. Such a person should be encouraged to carry on consistently from day to day, if only in a limited way.

In general, however, rest is the best treatment for all types of fatigue. Physical activity should be decreased as much as possible and such stimulants as coffee, tea and "cokes" should be abandoned or, at least, the use of them curtailed.

Consult your doctor. He is the person to investigate the reasons for fatigue. If a glandular disturbance is responsible, he will detect it. Self-medication won't help. Let your doctor lead you into a balanced social and business way of living. The fatigued person is one who, in his tired state, contributes little to his own enjoyment, and nothing to that of any one else. Time passes too quickly to be too tired to enjoy its interest.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7

"Holy Father, keep them in Thy name which thou hast given me, that they may be one, even as we are one." (John 17:11. RSV) Read John 17:15-26.

More than two years ago, in Amsterdam, Holland a most important religious assembly was held—the organizational meeting of the World Council of Churches. Assembled there were people of more than 100 denominations from every continent and from many of the islands of the sea. Representatives of nearly every branch of the Christian Church were there.

The World Council is a cooperative fellowship, making possible a richer communion of worship, study and action. It makes possible communion between the Old World and the New, between the East and the West, among those of all the racess, between orthodox tradition and the free churches. Everyone, regardless of where he may be worshipping, is part of a world-wide Christian fellowship. The Spirit of Christmas is alive everywhere among the Christian people of the world.

PRAYER
"O God, we pray for Thy Church which today is face to face with great, new tasks. Baptize her afresh with the life-giving Spirit of Jesus. Put upon her lips the ancient Gospel of her Lord. Make her valiant to give up her life to serve humanity. Like her crucified Lord, may she mount by the path of the cross to a higher glory." In His Name. Amen.

1951 License Plates
On Sale by Cash and Carry or Mail

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett announced that "cash and carry" sale of 1951 vehicle license plates would begin in Springfield and Chicago on Friday, December 1.

The Secretary urged motorists in the vicinity of the Capitol or the Chicago automobile department office at 334 South Ashland Blvd. to avail themselves of the advantages of speedy service being offered them on over the counter sale of plates.

Motorists who purchase their plates at our offices not only save themselves the inconvenience of purchasing a money order and mailing in an application, but they are also saved waiting for their new plates to arrive via mail," Barrett said.

The month of December is a busy one for the post office department," Barrett added, "and those persons who pick up their plates instead of having them mailed will give Santa a hand by making his mail bag a little lighter during the Christmas season."

Mailing of 1951 vehicle license plates has started and are being sent in a new safety message envelope accompanied by a safety pamphlet.

The new envelope carries a reminder of the meanings of various highway signs on the back. The enclosed pamphlet lists some common "do's and don'ts" and carries to drivers the odds of injury or death they face when gambling with unsafe driving practices. The enclosure also reminds motorists to "look at your driver's license" inasmuch as the present series of licenses begins to expire in 1951.

Remedial Reading Course New at Joliet Jr. College This Year

by Joanne Martie
To improve the over-all reading abilities of college students at Joliet Junior college, a new course, the Remedial Reading program has been established this year under the direction of Mr. Benjamin Day. "It is the general agreement of college professors throughout the country that college students are much too slow in their reading habits," Mr. Day stated. "The lower limit on easy material, such as articles from the Readers Digest and Saturday Evening Post, should be 350 to 400 words a minute, which many students do not have," Mr. Day continued. About seventy college students (most of them on a voluntary basis) are now enrolled in this course. Reading tests are given in the freshman English classes, and students having low scores are requested to spend some time in the course. The students meet in groups of four to seven at least once a week. During this period Mr. Day helps them to increase their reading speed with devices that enable them to recognize sentence structures (phrases, clauses), to learn new words, and to improve study habits having to do with reading. "Anyone is free to consult me at any time without the obligation of entering the course," Mr. Day said. "It is for the good of the individual that this program is established." "No credit can be offered because it is a project which consists of more or less individual tutoring," Mr. Day went on to say. The program was tried in summer school last year, but was not instituted as a course in the college until this fall.

Production costs take a real nose dive wherever the John Deere Model "R" Diesel goes to work. Owners the country over report savings of several dollars a day in fuel alone over the cost of doing the same amount of work with a spark-ignition tractor.

Typical is the following report—"Pulling a 5-bottom plow at more than 4 m.p.h., it costs us less than 11 cents per acre to plow sweet clover averaging 14 inches high at a depth of 6 inches." Another owner reported—"Our John Deere Diesel pulls a 10-foot tandem disk and a 3-section drag at full depth in 4th gear—handles 70 acres a day for a total fuel cost of $2.80."

You, too, can profit by owning a Model "R." Arrange now for a free demonstration. Take the "R" through its paces... let it "sink its teeth" into a tough plowing or disking job. Test it completely and we know the answer—you'll want this profit-maker on your farm.

Sharing Our Faith

Lesson for December 10, 1950

SCRIPTURE: Acts 8:1-13; 18:1-7; 1 Corinthians 9:16-17; 11 Corinthians 5:17-20; Philippians 1:12-18; 2:12-18.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Romans 1:8-17.

A COMMON sight in cities of ancient times was the "libation." Statues of gods or goddesses stood at every prominent corner, in every yard; they were as numerous as billboards today. Before one of these statues some one would be pouring out wine from a cup or goblet, an offering of thanksgiving or dedication. Saint Paul even used the libation as a figure of speech to describe himself. My life, he said to his friend Timothy, is being poured out—there was not much left of it, but all of it, every drop, would be poured out as an offering to God.

Miser of Life or Spender?

PAUL was no miser of life. If life was a full cup, it was not a cup with a tight lid, not like one of your grandmother's jars of very special preserves to be saved and saved but never used. Paul was a spender of life. Whatever God had given him was to be poured out, not to be saved.

There is something in every one's cup of life; something that spoils if kept too long, something fragrant and beautiful when poured out in service.

The miser of life finds that life at last turns sour on him. The spender of life finds that as he has given, in the same measure it will be given him.

Faith Can't Be Hoarded

ONE very important part of the Christian's life is high-lighted for us in this week's Scripture: his faith. Indeed, faith ought not to be a part of life for the Christian. Faith is no more a "part" of life than sunshine is a part of the outdoors. Without the sunshine there might as well not be any outdoors. So without faith the Christian's life would be mere existence.

The question is: What do we do with our faith? Do we keep it for ourselves alone or do we pass it on?

Last summer a man tried to get a grocery store to take back 100 pounds of sugar which he had laid up during World War II. He had hoarded it till it was hard as rock and he could not use a pound of it. (The grocery would not take it back, and it served him right.) Faith is like that. It is sweet and good—but only if we use it and share it, not if we keep it to ourselves.

What Is Sharing Faith?

SHARING your faith means helping others to have a faith at least as strong as your own. All around us there are persons who have no faith at all. They are discouraged, blue, bewildered, at loose ends—in the sad old phrase, they are lost. Sharing your faith means sharing it with just such people.

With some things, the more you give away the less you have left; but the arithmetic of religion is different. The more you give away, the more you have. Shared faith is living faith; shared faith is growing faith.

There are more ways than one of sharing our faith. One way is to talk about it. A person can "give a testimony" in a prayermeeting, and share faith that way; but this is not the only way. A person who merely talks about faith is a little like a gardener who is proud of his own garden and brags on it, but never helps his neighbors with theirs.

How Can We Do It Every Day?

REMEMBER, what we are really trying to share when we "share the gospel" or "share Christ" is not an argument, a set of propositions. The big thing is not arguing other people into becoming Christians.

Very few persons have ever become Christians because some one talked them into it. Talk has its place, and every Christian should be eager to say a good word for Jesus Christ at every chance. But good words for Jesus have their best effect when they come from a life that is really His.

A Christian whose faith is something put on on Sundays with the "church clothes" is not going to have any great success as a soul-winner. We can't share faith we don't have; we can't share second-hand or imitation faith. A former Mohammedan, being asked what was the great argument that won wasn't any argument, it was the him to Christianity, replied, "It lives of some missionaries."

What is Wrong with an Excess Profits Tax? The Ways and Means Committee has completed hearings on an excess profits tax. Two hundred witnesses were heard and filed briefs. One hundred and ninety seven of them were opposed to the tax. Three of the witnesses testified in favor of the tax—one representing the CIO, one representing the AF of L, and one representing the Electrical Workers Union. The opponents of the tax made the following points against it.

1. It is an inflationary tax, not a deflationary one. It encourages the manufacturer to disregard costs of production and to pay more for both raw products and labor because the increased costs largely "come out of Uncle Sam's cut of the profits."

2. It discourages efficiency in production and encourages inefficiency, because 90 cents out of every dollar above normal profits has to go to Uncle Sam.

3. It takes away the incentive for business expansion and stepped-up production—two very desirable things in a war economy.

4. All former experience with an excess profits tax proves that it is impossible to draft one that will treat all business enterprises fairly and equitably. A renegotiation law covering war contracts will take care of all excess profits that may be made.

In lieu of an excess profits tax these witnesses proposed an increase in corporate tax rates and a slight increase in individual income tax rates. This would bring in more money to the Treasury than the proposed excess profits tax, and it would do it more easily and equitably.

Under questioning by the writer, Eric Johnston, representing the Motion Pictures Industry of America, stated:

"An excess profits tax is extremely inflationary in its effect upon our economy. It will discourage, not encourage, business expansion and stepped-up production. Needed revenue for the Treasury can be secured more readily and with less trouble simply by increasing corporation surtaxes."

Mr. Ellsworth C. Alvord, chairman of the Committee on Federal Finance, United States Chamber of Commerce, in his testimony before the Ways and Means Committee said: "If this committee passes the proposed excess profits tax, the results will be the exact opposite to those desired by the committee."

Under questioning Mr. Alvord admitted that his general statement when translated into specific language would read:

"You want deflation—you will get inflation. You want revenue you will get little if any revenue. You want business expansion and increased production—yet you remove all incentive for securing either by the passage of this bill."

Bradley Dewey, President of

Dewey Chemical Company, Cambridge, Mass., summed his testimony up as follows:

"One of the most encouraging phenomena of the post war years was the number of returning young men who started a new business. Many of these have not as yet become profitable. Today they are just turning the corner. These new businesses must not be crippled by an excess profits tax which is a tax upon healthy growth."

"Renegotiation of war contracts can stop the war profiteer. Let renegotiation tax away actual excess war profits but keep our basic economy healthy so that the young men who are coming along may have the same opportunities to organize and promote new companies and new products as their predecessors. Tax the profits out of war by renegotiation."

LeBLANC TELLS HOW ADVERTISING
SOLD HADACOL

Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc, owner of Hadacol, speaking before the Kansas City Advertising and Sales Executives Club today, offered to put up the first $5,000 of any organized campaign to advertise the whole Kansas City area as an ideal location for eastern and Pacific coast firms to locate branches as protection against atomic bomb attacks.

"Everywhere I go in the East business leaders are wondering what would happen to valuable records and even their plants in case of an atomic bomb attack," said the Senator. "They are seriously considering putting in branches that would be safe from such an attack."

Kansas City is the almost exact center of the nation. You have excellent working conditions, a friendly citizenry and aggressive leaders. Why shouldn't they locate in the vast Kansas City area? I feel like I should do something for Kansas City because you folks have bought $500,000 worth of my Hadacol since July 15th. If you will get together a fund of at least $25,000 to advertise the Kansas City area as the center of the nation I will start it off with $5,000—and there is plenty more where that came from."

Senator LeBlanc described how he took $2,500,000 in borrowed money two and a half years ago and parlayed it into The LeBlanc Corporation for which he recently turned down a cash offer of $12,500,000.

He told how he had a net profit of about $170,000 in December of 1949, and spent it all in advertising between Christmas and New Year's of last year. As a result he sold $2,500,000 worth of Hadacol in the first six weeks of this year, more than he sold in the entire year of 1949. He had a net profit before taxes of $2,700,000 by July of this year and tried to spend $500,000 of it on his Hadacol Caravan with leading movie stars. Instead of spending the profit, he sold another $3,000,000 worth of Hadacol on the Caravan, and his net profit for the year is now between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 before taxes. He gave much of the credit of his success to newspaper advertising, explaining that he uses ads almost daily in 850 daily newspapers and twice monthly in more than 6,000 weekly newspapers.

Senator LeBlanc was introduced by William B. Terry, President of the Kansas City Advertising and Sales Executives Club. Mr. Terry commented on Hadacol as a prime example of the power of advertising and added that many looked upon Senator LeBlanc as the next governor of Louisiana.

PTA SPEAKERS PRESENT

munity Unit School District. comprising Frankfort, New Lenox townships and a sector of Manhattan township. This would be the ideal solution from educational, administrative and financial standpoints.

4. The establishment of a Community High School District comprised of townships mentioned above, it is felt that this has the best vote-getting possibilities, but that, in the nature of things, such a district would eventually evolve into the more desirable Community Unit School District plan.

Attention was called to the fact that with a Community Unit School District, optimum use of the facilities of all schools could be had, one seven-man board would serve the entire area, and coordination of activities of schools in the area would result in economies not possible under the other plans.

Mr. Kohl called attention to the fact that with the assessed valuation of $23,000,000.00 in the area, a good high school could be supported with little change in the tax structure. Almost $400.00 yearly tuition is being paid for each student attending the Joliet Township High School.

Mr. Connor described the basic essentials of the modern high school.

"There is no crystal ball into which we can look which will assist in arriving at the adequate size of the modern high school for this area, in view of the large movement of population to the suburban area," Mr. Connors said.

It is essential, therefore, to plan a school with facilities for expansion. The basic structure, boiler room, gymnasium, and service rooms should be so planned that when expansion is necessary it can be done around the original structure.

Speaking generally of high school buildings of the modern day, Mr. Connors told how bright cheerful rooms are provided through the use of adequate windows and bright colors. Cost of maintenance can be kept at a minimum by planning and specifying materials that are easily cleaned.

Mr. Connors indicated his preference for a one-floor plan where possible. There are no costly fireproof stairways in a one-floor plan. Sketches of two possible plans of modern high school buildings were shown, as being ideal single floor which go to make a smooth-running school.

Mr. Connors in closing stressed the need for simplicity and economy of design and the elimination of all "architectural ginger bread." — Lyman Teague, publicity.

SOUTH COOK COUNTY SEEKS

method of bringing books to people, not a building. Only a small combination storage space and office is necessary in a central location. The books are circulated through the district by means of a mobile unit and are placed in collections and deposits within each village, wherever space can be provided. Schools, public buildings and these, can be utilized for the housing of an ever-changing collection of books.

The law provides that a tax not exceeding .06 per cent of the value of all taxable property in the district may be levied to support a district library. This means a tax of not more than six tenths of a mill, or six cents on $100.

A home assessed at $10,000 would have a $6 per year tax. A home assessed at $5,000 would have a yearly tax of $3. The tax evaluation figure on a piece of property is not necessarily the same as the price a home would bring if placed on the real estate market. The figure was used to base the tax is that set by the tax assessor.

For farms within the district, the figures also depend on the assessed valuation of the land, which varies. Land assessed at $200 per acre would support a tax of 12 cents per acre. The average farm within the district is about 80 acres. For a farm of this size, the yearly tax would be $9.60.

By spreading the tax over the entire district and pooling the income to support a central staff of trained personnel, the library could be run in the most economical manner possible, with no overlapping of services. A staff of four would be necessary to handle the work. This staff might consist of a librarian, assistant, clerk, and driver. The librarian and assistant could change about, one doing administrative or paper work at the central office while the other was out in the district, overseeing the checking in and out of books, setting up deposits, receiving requests and the like. A phone service to the central office would enable any member of the district to get special requests or information. It would also be a means for teachers and residents to obtain collections of books for special studies or research problems.

Convenient hours would be arranged, so that the branches and deposits would be open to the public as much as possible. Evening hours could be arranged for commuters and other employed persons to use the library. School stops or collections would be arranged both for the village schools and for the country and parochial schools.

During the period in which the district library plan was being put to work, the Illinois State Library would provide a loan of 7,000 books to be used through the district. This loan would continue until the collection of books, to handle its district had acquired a sufficient own needs. Books would always be available from the State Library by special request. The State Library also maintains an Advisory Committee which is available for advice and help.

The district library is administered by a six-member Library Board, composed of residents of the district who serve without pay. It is appointed by the County board of Commissioners.

The District plan has been proposed by a steering committee of representatives from every village within the district. The Tinley Park member was originally Mrs.

S. W. Chilton, who resigned and was replaced by Mrs. Arista Francis. Her phone number is 2733, and any further information on the district plan desired by any resident of Tinley Park may be obtained from her.
